MRS. CARMAN GETS STAGGERING BLOW

Maid Testifies to Seeing Doctor's Wife Run in House After Shot.

GRAND JURY INQUIRY

Suspected Woman Will Waive Immunity in Asking to Appear and Testify on Her Own Behalf.

New York, July 15.—With the defense staggering under the crushing evidence administered against it in the evidence of a colored maid, District Atorney Smith predicts an early ending of the Nassau county grand jury's probe of the Freeport murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey. The grand jury resumed its sessions today at Mineola.

The evidence given by Celia Coleman, colored maid in the Carman home, is declared to have been a vital blow to the defense of Mrs. Florence Carman, the doctor's wife, who is held as a material witness in connection with the murder. Dr. Carman and Mrs. Carman's attorney are visibly worried.

Freeport, N. Y., July 15.—Directly after the shot which killed Mrs. Lulu Duryea Bailey in Dr. Edwin Carman's office on the night of June 30, Mrs. Carman, the woman accused of the murder, came running from the yard into the kitchen of the Carman house. There Celia Coleman, the Carman colored maid of all work, met her. Mrs. Carman and the terrified girl talked for a moment, and then Mrs. Carman hastened upstirs. Celia saw no weapon.

This is the vital part of the story told by the negro girl to the Grand Jury in Mineola. What Mrs. Carman said to Celia and what transpired directly after could not be learned.

District Attorney Smith would not go on record as saying that Celia's story assured the indictment, but his manner and comments indicated that his thoughts ran in that channel.

Dr. Carman was the second witness heard Just what he said was kept secret by the District Attorney, but it was to describe his trip out of the house after the shooting to find Bedell after Archie Post failed; why he did not telephone to Bedell instead of running to his friend's house; why he did not tell the police that murder had been committed until 8:59, although his sister-in-law, Mrs Ida Powell, telephoned to her father, Platt Sonklin, at 7:35; why he left the house at 2 a. m. and where he went and why.

Mrs. Carman is quoted as saying: "It is an awful punishment that has been meted out to me for the suspicions I permitted to cloud the love I hold for my husband.

"I am innocent. I cannot understand why everything said by myself, my husband or any one connected with me has been so distorted. All I ask of any one is fair play.

"I 'was not jealous of my husband.

"I installed the dictograph merely to be able to stop the mouths of gossips who had come to me with stories."

Atlantic City, July 15.—James Murray, of No. 117 Baltic avenue, is alleged to have kicked his wife out of bed. She retailiated, shattering a lamp chimney on his forehead, severing two arteries. The woman is alleged to have refused her husband any aid, and he had lost a great quantity of blood when Patrolman Lenoir, attracted by Murray's cries for aid, rushed into the house. He found Mrs. Murray preparing for flight and placed her under arrest.

At the City Hospital Murray's condition is reported as serious. Mrs. Murray was held in heavy bail to await the outcome of his injuries.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Mrs. Lucilla P. Haines, aged 84 years, who had been blind for ten years, regained the full sight of both eyes Monday night during an electrical storm at Camden, N. J. Mrs. Haines was sitting at a window when a flash of lightning struck her, cutting out a perfect half inch V down to the centre of each lens of the black glasses which she wore. Her nephew, Frank Alcott, found her unconscious b ythe window. Doctors revived her. Yesterday morning she was able to see.

Five Austrian mountaineers, three men and two girls, have been found dead in the snow on the Venediger glacier, in the Tyrol. It is surmised that they perished in the violent snowstorm of Wednesday.

The British House of Lords yesterday passed the third reading of the bill to amend the Irish Home Rule bill and sent it across to the House of Commons for consideration.

James Bailey, a negro, accused of theft of three mules, was hanged yesterday by a mob near Lake Cormorant, Miss. Bailey was taken from an officer while en route in an automobile to the jail at Hernando. Investigation by a coroner's jury failed to establish the identity of any member of the mob.

A preliminary hearing was granted yesterday in the case of Arch Johnson, brother of Joseph Johnson, whom his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Early Johnson, by her own confession, killed Saturday night, July 4, in Martin county, N. C. Arch Johnson admits that he bought the pistol with which his brother was slain and gave it to Mrs. Johnson, knowing what use she was going to make of it. In the course of his statement, Johnson, who is 21 years old, is reported to have said: "I loved my brother, but I loved his wife more and it was because of that fact that I allowed myself to get in this scrape."

The threatened strike of engineers and firemen on 98 Western railroads was still in the balance in Chicago last night, although the employes had announced to the roads that the men had voted nearly unanimously to strike to sustain their demands, if necessary, and that abitration under the federal law would not be adopted. The railroads, through their general managers' committee, contended that to grant the employers' demands would mean an increase of $33,000,000 annually in wages. Should the negotiations fail and the employes stand by their announced refusal of arbitration, the resulting strike would directly affect the 54,000 engineers and firemen, and indirectly a much larger number of workers.

RUINED BY FOLLY

Directors of New Haven Road Criminally Negligent is Charge.

Washington, D. C., July 15.—The story of the "reckless and profilgate" financial operations of New Haven Railroad, one of the most remarkable chapters in the history of American railroads and Amercan finance, was revealed in party yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission, in a report to the Senate of its investigation of that road.

It told of millions used like stage money, of corporations as pawns in a monster game, with all New England's transportation as a prize, which led the New Haven in the ten years just passed from the height of prosperity to the point where a dividend has been passed, when a dissolution suit is threatening, and where criminal indictments of many of the directors who figured in its deals are at least a possibility.

Hampered by unwilling witnesses, by burned books and by all the mazes which lawyers invented to cover the trail, the Commission estimated that in the progress toward monoplization of New England transportation the New Haven stockholders have lost between $65,000,000 and $90,000,000, but little of which they may recover. In return, the report said they have on their hands properties which pay no dividends, which eat into the earnings of the parent road, and which will be a burden on its capacty for many years to come.

GOV. STUART ORDERS ELECTION

Signs Order to Vote on Liquor Question After Getting Petition.

BUT A SLIGHT DELAY

Technicality Causes Executive to Consider Matter Closely Before Appending His Signature.

Richmond, July 15.—Five hours after he had received forms, James M. Hayes, Jr., acting Secretary of the Commonwealth, a certificate showing that 69,936 names of citizens represented by the clerks of the Circuits Courts of counties and Corporation Courts of cities to be legally qualified voters, are signed to the petition asking for an election on the question of State-wide prohibition, Governor Henry C. Stuart issued the order for the election, which will be held on September 22.

There was jubilation in the camps of the "drys" throughout the State when the news of Governor Stuart's action was telegraphed from Richmond to the anti-saloon leaders in the different cities and counties. The opponents of State-wide prohibition in Richmond viewed this latest development philosophically.

While some of the "wets" expressed their conviction that an inspection of the names signed to the petition will show that some thousands of the signers are not qualified voters, all admitted their belief that the number of qualified voters on the list is too great to warrant challenging the petition. They ascribed the alleged invalid signatures on the petitions to carelessness and inadvertence on the part of Anti-Saloon League representatives who circulated the petition in different parts of the State. It is understood that this phase will be investigated, the lists of names being accesible to the "wet" campaigners, having been entered on the records of the different courts with whose clerks the petition was filed for certification.

Belated petitions were received at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth yesterday morning from Norfolk, Staunton, Elizabeth City County, Halifax and Portsmouth. These brought the grand total or signers to 71,597.

WILL OPPOSE CHANGE.

Want Old Aqueduct Bridge to Remain in Present Location.

Residents of Georgetown and Virginia will oppose any change in the location of the Aqueduct Bridge. That was made plain at a mass meeting held in Georgetown last night, when hundreds of citizens of the District and Virginia voted unanimously in favor of keeping the bridge where it is.

Stirred by reports that a new bridge was to be built from G or H street, residents on both sides of the river assembled to put in their protest against what they considered a detriment to their mutual interests.

While there has been serious consideration of a slight change in the location of the bridge, so far as could be learned last night no reports of any considerable change had emanated from an authoritative source. The present bridge is at Thirty-sixth street. Plans for a bridge to run from Thirty-fourth and M streets have been prepared in the office of the officer in charge of the bridge.

Engineer Commissioner Harding was at a loss to know where the idea originated that the District Commissioners would favor a bridge across the Potomac at the terminus of G or H street northwest.

On the contrary, the Commissioners have recommended the Carlin bill, which calls for a new aqueduct bridge at Georgetown. Commenting on the situation, Commissioner Harding yesterday stated: "It was the understanding of the Commissioners that the plans prepared in the office of the engineer officer in charge of the Aqueduct Bridge, under the chief of engineers, contemplated in the new location of the Washington terminus, from Thirty-fourth and M streets, and in their report the Commissioners emphasized the advantage that would result from the change.

"No mention was made of a bridge at G or H street in the report."

FLEES FROM ADMIRER.

Young Woman is Threatened, So Decides to Hasten Marriage.

New York, July 15.—In flight from Providence, R. I., where an unwelcome admirer had threatened her, Miss Ella Disimone went to Jersey City today, and was married to Frank Moliea, of 105 Greene street. Judge Warren performed the ceremony in his office.

Miss Disimone first met Moliea several years ago, when, with their parents, they were spending their vacation at a summer resort. There intentions were altered, however, by the threats of the insistent wooer, who, a few days ago, gave Miss Disimone three days to make up her mind.

"If you want to keep your health and your pretty face, you had better decide in my favor," she says he told her.

A few hours after the man had gone Miss Disimone communicated with her fiance and told him to meet her at Jersey City yesterday. Miss Rose Moliea was bridesmaid and Michael Disimone best man.

After ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents, and the couple left for a trip through New England.

STORM IN NORFOLK.

Wind Blows Fifty-Four Miles an Hour.

Norfolk, Va., July 15.—For more than an hour Monday night, between 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock, Norfolk was swept by a tropical thunder storm, accompanied by high northwest winds. For a few minutes the wind reached a velocity of 54 miles an hour in Norfolk, according to the instruments of the local weather bureau on the Royster building. While the wind was at its height the rain fell in torrents, .55 of an inch being recorded.

The electrical display was brilliant, flash following flash in rapid succession. The sudden downpour inundated the streets in the lower parts of the city, interrupting street car service for brief periods. Between 150 and 200 telephones in Norfolk and Ocean View were put of commission by the storm.

No serious damage was done by the storm in Norfolk, though window panes in Norfolk, at Ocean View and Willoughby Beach were smashed in by the blasts.

CLAIMS VICTORY FOR LOCAL OPTION

Secretary of Local Self-Government League Discusses Petition.

RESULT UNCERTAIN

Many People Said to Have Signed to Bring Matter Before Voters of the Commonwealth.

Richmond, July 15.—Ben P. Owen, Jr., secretary of the Virginia Association for Local Self-Government, in commenting yesterday on the number of signatures to the petition for a State-wide prohibition election, said:

"The signatures secured for the State-wide election cannot be regarded as any index as to the strength of the present local option plan, and the substitution thereof of State-wide prohibition. While the number of signatures filed with the Governor does not represnt one-third of the qualified vote even if all these voted for State-wide prohibition, they would not represent anything like a majority of the qualified vote.

"Securing signatures calling for an election does not signify that those who signed that call will vote for State-wide prohibition, because the information which we have secured from all sections of the State, and from many persons whose names appear upon the petitions, is that they signed the call in order to have an opportunity to vote and get rid of the question,' and they stated when they signed that it was not their purpose to vote for State-wide prohibition. Many others signed as the easiest way of getting rid of importunity. It was freely stated by those who carried around the petitions that what they desired was to get names, and that signatures did not bind them.

"In a great many cases where the signatures were given the statement was made, I will sign, but I will not vote for State-wide prohibition. It it also a fact that many signers are not qualified voters. Giving the State-widers everything they claim on the face of the petitions, they are far short of a majority of qualified voters.

"Putting the accepted system of accounting in such matters to this petition problem, it will be found that the State-widers cannot reasonably rely upon anything like 69,939 votes in the coming election.

"In the hunt for signers, every argument known to the political canvasser was used to induce people to sign. Voters were advised by many canvassers that signing a petition did not commit them to State-wide prohibition, that the act of signing only provided the opportunity to have the enabling act submitted to the people for ratification or rejection. Under these circumstances, a great many signers will vote for local option as against State-wide prohibition. These facts are borne out by hundreds of letters received by the Virginia Associaiton for Local Self-Government.

"That many persons who will vote for local option in September and against State-wide prohibition signed these petitions, and that many who will not vote at all also signed them, is self-evident. There is no way to accurately sift the petition returns, and separate the local optionists from the State-widers, and in view of this fact the basis of calculation has long ago been adopted by nonpartisans and by entirely reliable bureaus of statistics to get at the facts. That basis, as already pointed out, is 60 per cent of the face of the petitions. In plainer words, experience and results in other States, show that only about 60 per cent of large petitioners of this character go to the polls and vote the way they have signed.

"That a majority of the voters of the State are against State-wide prohibition and in favor of local option is a reasonable conclusion. If they had not been these other names would have appeared on the petitions, as the entire State was vigorously combed to make a big showing. It is to this unsigned majority that the advocates of local option and local self-government look for victory."

TAKES HER LIFE.

Young Woman Swallows Poison at Ocean View

Norfolk, Va., July 15.—Miss Emma C. Cook, of 8 North Addison Avenue, committed suicide in a hotel at Ocean View some time Monday morning by taking poison.

Miss Cook had been in ill health for some time and left here Sunday afternoon with a party of friends for the seashore in an effort to recover her health.

Along with the terrible news of her death, which was received by her family, came a letter mailed by the young woman just before she retired, telling her parents that, owing to illness, she did not care to live.

Miss Cooke was twenty-six years of age. She was the daughter of James M. Cook, who, with the mother of the young lady, survives her.

Herbst was stricken with heart trouble as he and a crowd of young folks were enjoying an afternoon plunge in the river. HUERTA READY TO LEAVE MEXICO

Train Waits to Transport Mexican Dictator to Place of Safety.

TO HAVE BODY GUARD

Villa Orders I. W. W. to Leave Mining Region Under Pain of Immediate Execution.

Mexico City, July 15.—At 10 o'clock last night the family of President Huerta and other relatives and close friends left the capital for Vera Cruz aboard a special train. The train was composed of three sleepers and a baggage car. Running ahead of it were two military trains carrying 800 men. Following came another military train, with 500 troops aboard.

The family of General Blanquet, minister of war, also left on the special.

The party boarded the train at Villa de Guadalupe, a railroad station about 5 miles from Mexico City. Only a few persons were aware of their departure.

It was believed that President Huerta, General Blanquet, and other high officials will leave the capital today.

A train was held ready at the interoceanic station with 1,500 men of the Twenty-ninth regiment and other troops. It was presumed that General Huerta will use this train.

As the night was rainy and dark only a few persons were aware of the departure of the President's family.

Juarez, Mexico, July 15.—Fifteen I. W. W. agitators, who have been operating in the mining districts of Chihuahua state, in an effort to start a strike of native laborers, were arrested today, by order of General Francisco Villa, and will be expelled from Mexico. Villa notified them that should they ever return to Mexico he would have them executed.

Villa arrived here today from Chihuahua City to purchase ammunition and supplies for his coming campaign against Queretara and Mexico City. On his arrival he received a dispatch from General Alvaro Obregon, reporting that he had seized 4,000 rifles, 1,000 cavalry horses, and 500,000 pesos belonging to the Federal troops when he captured the city of Guadalajara. Federal forces continue to surrender to Obregon. His prisoners are now estimated at more than 6,000.

Colonel Santiago Varela, captain of the constitutionalist garrison at Janosa, Chihuahua, today reported a bloodless battle with bandit forces under Colonel Jose Orozoco which took place a few days ago. Varilla captured all the bandits' munitions of war.

Preacher with 13 Wives.

Eastman, Ga., July 15.—John H. Houston, the Primitive Baptist preacher, said to have thirteen wives living, who has ben known as the "millionaire convict" since his recent detention on the charge of larceny, is still at large, following his escape from the Dodge county chaingang Thursday night.

Although bloodhounds and posses have been scouring the country around Eastman, search has been fruitless, and it is now believed that Houston, with the aid of friends, has made his getaway. Although he was heavily shackled when he escaped, his chains have since been discovered in a swamp, evidently filed away. He is believed to have secured clothing, a grip and money and to have decamped for parts unknown.

Bigamy charges against Houston, who is wanted in South and North Carolina on complaints of women he is said to have married there, will be enforced by the father of Edna Garrison, the Dodge county girl whom Houston married.

Garrison is said to have 163 letters in his possession which prove that Houston now has thirteen wives living.

MARINE NONDESCRIPTS

Arrival of the "Success" Brings to Mind Visits of Other Interesting Crafts.

The British convict ship "Success," now lying at this port, has attracted many Alexandrians to the river front. Up to 1 o'clock this afternoon the vessel was not open to visitors, but during the afternoon many have boarded her and been interested in examining relics of a bygone age, when men were treated inhumanely for what are now regarded as trivial offenses.

This is not the first time a strange vessel has been moored at Alexandria. In the early eighties a curious specimen of marine architecture drifted towards Alexandria one Sunday afternoon. It was a small vessel which had been built by a man who had not been trained as a ship carpenter, and the hull was suggestive of crude pictures of Noah's ark. The owner had been seized with a craze to make a voyage to Australia, and with his own hands had constructed a marine nondescript. The owner, after exhibiting the craft here for a few days, started on his long voyage via Cape Horn. Alexandrians never heard from the rash amateur mariner after he left this port.

A few years later Captain Norton constructed at the foot of Wilkes street a lifeboat which he believed to be unsinkable. It was a small sloop-rigged vessel. He started for Europe, but was never heard of again.

In 1877 a man named Boynton, who was a bridgebuilder by occupation, conceived the idea of constructing a boat in which he proposed to spend the remainder of his days. He built the boat in Fairfax County, using hoop poles for timbers. After finishing his marine home he transported it to Jones' Point on a wagon, and after placing it in the water took up his abode in the boat. It, too, was of nondescript order, with a stern resembling a Chinese junk. Before the owner placed masts and sails on his craft he was stricken with malaria and died before launching out on the deep.

Upper Board Fails to Assemble—Small Volume of Business Disposed of.

There was no meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night, that body having agreed at the meeting three weeks ago that they would adjourn for the summer and not meet between now and the first of September, except by call of the President after the requisite number of members shall have petitioned for a meeting. The Aldermen at the previous meeting adopted a resolution providing for the recess, but the Common Council refused to concur.

Two ordinances, providing for modern paying on Lee street, between King and Queen, were reported favorably by the committees and by the lower board, as was also an ordinance fixing the grades of those squares. An appropriation of $100 was made for the playground auxiliary of the Parents'-Teachers' Association. The official proceedings will be found elsewhere.

Common Council.

When the President called the obard to order eleven members were present. Those absent were Messrs. Spinks, Burke, Williams, Graham, and Sullivan, and Mr. Williams came in later.

Ordinances appropriating $9,800 for a vitrified brick roadway on Lee street from King to Queen, were reported favorably by the street committee.

These ordinances provided that they should be in force from and after their passage, and in the next paragraph provided that the ordinance shall be void unless every property holder on the square shall voluntarily contribute an amount equal to $2.50 per front foot within 30 days of the pasage of the ordinance.

Messrs. Smith and Bryan thought this wording should be changed as the two paragraphs conflicted.

But after a brief discussion between the Chair and Mr. Smith the ordinances were passed.

An ordinance appropriating $3,000, for repairing the surface of asphalt and gravel streets was sent to the finance committee.

Mr. Brockett asked about the legality of the Aldermen adjourning without the concurrance of Council, and in the discussion that followed it seemed to be genrally agreed that neither branch of Council could adjourn by a regular meeting night except by a joint resolution passed by both branches.

Council finally agreed to reaffirm the resolution passed at the last meeting providing for an adjournment for the summer and then adjourned.

YOUTHS ARRESTED.

Ten Washington youths, ranging in age from eighteen to twenty-one years, were arrested yesterday afternoon in Fredericksburg, Va., by Special Agent Cannaday, of the Washington-Southern Railway, on spspicion of having robbed the store of Varney Brothers, Del Ray, Alexandria county, of a quantity of cigars and smoking tobacco. The lads will be taken to Alexandria county for a hearing.

Joseph Williams, eighteen years old, claiming Washington as his home, was brought here last night. He told of the affair. According to Williams, the boy were enroute to Newport News, there idea being to enter the navy. A quantity of the alleged plunder was recovered from the lads, according to Williams.

Williams said the store door of the establishment was open and two of the boys walked in and took some cigars and tobacco.

PLAN TO MAKE UP THE REVENUE.

The approaching election, when when the voters of Virginia shall decide whether there shall be Statewide prohibition or local option in the Old Dominion, is becoming more interestng as the time approaches for deciding this issue. The large number of signatures to the petitons asking the Governor to call this election, has enthused the friends of Statewide prohibition, and they are confident the State will be declared dry in September. Many people preferring local option, however, are by no means disposed to concede this, and claim that not all who signed the petitions will vote for prohibition, but that many who prefer local option appended their names in order to have the issue brought before the suffragans of Virginia and settled once for all. In case the forecasts of the prohibitionists should prove true the interesting question will then present itself—how shall the State and cities be recompensed for the great loss both will suffer in decreased revenues?

As is well known, the abolition of the sale of liquor in Virginia means a loss in revenue to the State of nearly six hundred thousand dollars, while that to the various cities in the commonwealth will prove staggering sums. This loss will, of necessity, be made up elsewhere, but as the law-makers have about reached their ne plus ultra in listing property, incomes and avocations for taxation they are examining closely the body politic, hoping they may find some places where the leeches are not already at work.

It has been suggested by some representatives of the class who will vote for prohibition as well as by those who prefer local option, that inasmuch as ministers and church members have for years been engaged in the dry movement, although aware of the fact that the revenues must be kept at high water mark, that should that element be successful at the coming election, they should be willing to forfeit something pro bono publico, and that all church property, in the way of edifices, rectories, seminaries and other institutions conducted in the name of religion, and all property owned by any organizations should be listed for taxation. They can see no reason why those who are enthusiastic at the prospects of eliminating liquor from Virginia should object to paying taxes on church property when the sale of liquor in the Old Dominion shall have been relegated to history.

The late President U. S. Grant recommended this course in the first message he sent to Congress in 1869. He was a little in advance of the times, as people were thinking too much of freedmen's bureaus, reconstruction and other matters at that time. He, however, was far-seeing, and knew sooner or later the question would be put before the voters.

POISON IN HOSE SAVES LIFE

Melts and Never Gets to Stomach of Jealous Girl's Rival.

Pottsville, Pa., July 15.—Becoming jealous of Miss Julia Smith, because an official of the Schuylkill County Almshouse was bestowing his affections upon her, Miss Florence Wychidas, a week ago, it is alleged, gave Miss Smith several bichloride of mercury tablets as "headache powders," stating that they were "an excellent remedy."

Shortly after she was given the tablets, Miss Smith came to the home of Alderman F .S. Freiler, of this city, and worked there as a domestic. She placed the tablets in her stocking and the perspiration from her body dissolved them, poisoning her leg.

Dr. A. L. Gillars was summoned and after a careful examination ascertained that the poisoning was caused by the bichloride of mercury tablets.

The girl refused to tell where she received the tablets, and the State police were notified . Sergeant Smith was detailed on the case, and he ascertained that the tablets were given the girl last Wednesday, and they came from the hands of Miss Wychidas.

Yesterday Miss Wychidas was arraigned before Alderman Freiler, charged with theft and an attempted felony. At first she emphatically denied that she either stole or gave the tablets to Miss Smith. Later she admitted it, and pleaded guilty. She was committed to jail for trial.

"I waited more than an hour in the dark of the road for him and when he came, as I knew he would, I fired—both barrels of the shotgun. He shrieked and died and I ran through the fields back home." Thus Edgar Murphy, arrested in connection with the brutal murder Saturday of Herman Fisher near the home of his fiancee, Ida Wilhelm, at New Albany, N J., confessed to the police last night. Jealousy was the motive for the crime, Murphy having an affection for the girl which, he says, drove him mad.

One application relieved him wonderfully, and a few days' treatment effected a cure. Many others have found quick relief by applying this liniment. For sale by all dealers.

BITTEN BY SNAKE.

Staunton, Va., July 15.—Samuel H. Gardner, whose home is on the Parkersburg pike, near this city, was bitten on the thumb Sunday afternoon by a mocasin snake, which he had captured at Middle River, where he was spending the day with a party of friends.

Mr. Gardner, who had captured the snake alive, was attempting to put it in a small box when his hand slipped, the snake forcing up the lid and biting him on the thumb. The injured man hastened to town and received immediate attention from Dr. Whitmore. His hand was terribly swollen and he suffered intensely for several hours.

Dead on the Roadside.

Charlotesville, Va., July 15.—W. J. Norfolk, one of the most prominent farmers of Northern Albemarle, was found dead on the roadside about 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning. while on his way to drive some cattle from one pasture to another he fell from his horse, evidently a victim of apoplexy. He was born in 1852 near Stony Point, this county, where he spent practically all of his life. In 1868 he married Miss Ella Taylor, daughter of Z. T. Taylor, of Stony Point. He leaves his widow and the following children; Mrs. J. Mason Smith, Mrs. George Smith, Dr. J. Norfolk and W. Carlyle Norford, of Stony Point, and R. Taylor Norford, of Alexandria.

HOW TO GAIN HEALTHY FLESH

While thinness may not be a disease, yet it is in reality a condition that needs attention. Under the nourishing power of Samose, healthy, natural flesh will soon be attached.

This remarkable flesh-forming food strengthens the system generally and builds up the fleshy tissues so that good, natural plumpness results.

An ounce of flesh is better than a pound of theory. E. S. Leadbeater & Sons believe that the best possible demonstration of the flesh-forming powers of Samose is to have it tried by their customers, and to induce them to use it they offer to pay for the Samose in case it does not give satisfaction. No stronger proof than this can be given of their faith in it. They have seen hundreds who were weak, thin and scrawny, become plump, robust and strong, solely through the use of Samose.

FOR RENT—Two nice parlors, or three nice rooms for light housekeeping on the second floor, with back yard and side alley. Also nice room with board on second floor. Apply 220 north Columbus street. 15-2t.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.
